

What's Next?

I lived a life of happiness filled with love and joy.
And then I met my husband John, and we had a baby boy.
He was born on John's special day, so he was John the three and would always remain close to us as this was meant to be.

He filled our life with gratitude from our heads right to our toes, and then we had a second child, we named her Susan Rose.

After a bit of sorrow, God put us to a test,
to see if we could handle it, along with all the rest.
And then along came number three and she really was a thrill.

God sent her to us willingly, and we finally called her Jill.
Then onto a new life with new friends,
we moved to our new home.

Again, our life was glorious, and we never were alone.
Bobby was our number four. Our family was complete!
But then he had to wear a brace to straighten out his feet.
As life continued, we moved along, our family all grown up,

They married, each and every one of them, and finally filled our cup.

And then along with happiness, there always is some sorrow.

We lost our little Susan Rose, as she was ours to borrow.
God really needed help upstairs,
so he reached down to us once more,
And took our second boy to him, of this we must endure.
And now a year has passed me by, and now I lost my mate,
And wonder what's in store for me and what's to be my fate.

I ask our Lord what's in his plans,
and would love to send a text,
but all I get to ask of him,
"OH LORD, TELL ME WHAT'S NEXT".
